

NEWS FROM TOWNS SURROUNDING SOUTH BEND

CASSOPOLIS, MICH.

Miss Pearl Reed, the 15-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Reed of Pokagon, against whom a charge of delinquency was made last fall, owing to her failure to attend school and whose disorderly conduct led Judge Eby of the probate court to place her under parole after she had been arraigned in juvenile court, has been found at Richmond, Ind., and was brought back by Deputy A. E. Nixon, after violating her parole several months ago, at which time, upon being cited to appear in court, she disappeared. She has been located several different times in Indiana cities, but when sent for had disappeared. When arrested Wednesday she was in questionable company, but informed the officers she was tired of the life she had chosen to lead and wished to go back home. She also said her mother was responsible for her leaving at the time, she was cited to appear in court the second time, having given her $7 with which to get away. The parents now live at Dowagiac, where the father is employed in the Round Oak shops. He is said to be a steady workman and does not condone the action of the girl's mother. The girl is being held at the county jail until the court receives word from the girl's mother as to whether she will properly care for her daughter in case she is allowed to go home.

Arrangements whereby the Cassopolis Ladder Co. will manufacture the patent ironing board devised by Oscar F. Northrup, have been completed. Mr. Northrup patented this board two years ago and the boards have been made for him in other factories. Lately he has secured the necessary dies for stamping out the metal parts and this work will be done in the factory of the Wood Tank Co. at Niles. The wood work and assembling will be done here.

Mr. Northrup has made arrangements with a large Chicago jobbing house, with branches in western towns, to take his product in car loads.

Under the direction of Miss M. Lucille Holliday, musical instructor, the pupils of the Cassopolis public schools will give a May Song fest at the Colonial theater, Friday evening, May 26. Three hundred voices have been trained for the event. The first number will be a scene from the primary room, exactly as it takes place every Thursday and Friday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock. The first part of the program will be given by the grades and the second part by the high school. Features in the latter will be the High School chorus, the Girls' Glee club and Boys' Glee club, and the High School orchestra.

Wednesday and Thursday evenings, June 7 and 8, the commencement exercises of the Cassopolis high school will be held, at which time nine girls and three boys will be graduated. Of the 12, only three are residents of Cassopolis, the others residing outside of the district. The members of the class are: Misses Pearl Wagner, Genevieve and Marie Schell, Vesta Cook, Veryl Morse, Olive Henderson, Dorothy Hoff, Margaret Warren and Ruth White, and Howard Connelly, Max Morton and Charles Rickert. The class exercises of the school will be held Wednesday evening, and the commencement exercises the following evening.

He came here to visit his parents and neglected to send the officers the money to pay the fine, with the result that Friday evening, May 19, of this place, received word to arrest Tase and hold him until the officials from Jackson came for him. He spent Friday night at the county jail and Saturday he was taken back to Jackson. It is not known here just what disposition the Jackson authorities will make of the case.

Stanley Davis, a 15-year-old colored boy of Dowagiac, was brought here Saturday morning by Deputy Towns and given in charge of the officers. He was taken before juvenile Judge Eby. The charge was assault and battery on Irene Powell, a white girl of his own age. When the reporter asked him what he did he replied, "I slapped Irene's face. Why? Because she called me some awful bad names." Judge Eby said, "While the boy has given some trouble in the past, his misdeeds do not warrant his being sent away and the judge is trying to get a home for him where he will be properly watched. His mother works out by the day and the boy is left to his own inclinations after school hours."

Two young men of this place had an accident Saturday morning which though not seriously injuring them, gave them a severe jolting. Arthur Turner and Max Morton were driving east on the State st. rd. in a Ford car, when they met a large touring car. The young men gave their half of the road, which the large car failed to do. The touring car, without slowing up, struck the Ford car, causing it to turn turtle. The young men were thrown out, but neither was injured. They managed to right their car, and driving back to town, made complaint to Sheriff A. W. Reed. The only description they could offer was that the other car was a large green touring car. And the sheriff is looking out for it. Mr. Turner, with his brother William, have charge of the Ford garage repair shop.

TUMULTY SAYS FIELDER NOT SUGGESTED TO HIM

Declares New Jersey Chairman Knew Wilson Wanted Westcott to Nominate Him.

WASHINGTON, May 22.—Joseph P. Tumulty, secretary to President Wilson, Sunday night gave out a statement referring to a letter from Gov. Fielder of New Jersey to the president in which the governor stated that he had allowed himself to be selected by the New Jersey delegates to the St. Louis convention to nominate Mr. Wilson because State Chairman Edward Grosscup had told him he had been informed by Mr. Tumulty that the president had no choice.

Mr. Tumulty's statement follows: "There was no misunderstanding on my part as far as this situation was concerned. A messenger representing State Chairman Grosscup called me by telephone at the white house on the morning of the meeting of the delegates and I informed him that it was the president's desire that Judge Westcott should be designated to renominate him. Mr. Grosscup was in possession of this information and the president's views when the delegates selected Gov. Fielder. Gov. Fielder's name was never suggested to me by Mr. Grosscup for this duty in any discussion I had with him about affairs in New Jersey."

THE COUPON SALE!

Something Worth Crowding About!

Tuesday Coupon Sales are Real Bargain Chances

The Grand Leader is a firm believer in advertising. Fact is, we are one of the largest advertisers in South Bend. This has no effect on our prices, because the large volume of business done here cuts the expenses down to a minimum. For example, a lady who is busy all day costs us no more than if she had but a few customers a day. The weekly Coupon Sale is another stirring example of our underselling. It is an event worth crowding about. If you shopped here on Coupon day you know what economies are to be had. Just Klip! Everybody Klips Coupons.
